Reasons for allowance

1. This communication is in response to applicant's 07/17/2006 Amendment after the Final in the application of Anderson et al. for the "Voice operated two way asynchronous radio" filed 09/19/2001. The amendment and response has been entered and made of record. Claims 8, 12-13 and 17 have been canceled per Applicant's request, and Claims 1, 9-11, 14 have been amended. The claims have been amended to better point out and more distinctly claim subject matter comprising the invention.

2. Claims 1-7, 9-11, 14-16 are allowable as evident by applicant's amendment (Claims are renumbered as 1-13 respectively).

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest a method for communicating audio messages using a two-way radio, comprising: asynchronously transmitting an output audio message, the transmitting further comprising: generating a first acoustic signal in an input device of the radio; determining whether the first acoustic signal is a command, and if the first acoustic signal is a particular command, then responding to the particular command in an output device of the radio and processing the particular command, and otherwise storing the first acoustic signal in an output buffer of the radio and sending the first acoustic signal as an output audio message only when a communications channel is available to a transmitter of the radio; and asynchronously receiving an input audio message in a receiver of the radio, the receiving further comprising:

storing the input audio message in an input buffer of the radio; generating a second acoustic signal in the input device; sending the stored input audio message to the output device only if the second acoustic signal is a play command; communicating input and output audio messages among a plurality of two-way radios via a wide area network, wherein each two-way radio has a unique physical identification, and an associated logical identification, and wherein each logical identification is in a form of a phrase having a predetermined words, the words arranged according to a predetermined grammatical structure for a particular target language, as expressly recited in the claim.
